

Bed Time Story
by Nishaun Smith

Once upon a time, there was a little child who believed in God. He was told that it was time to go get some rest. He tried to hide from his parents because he did not want to sleep. To make things worse the child was told he needed to have a bath before sleep and to add insult to injury he had to even brush his teeth. The child mocked his parents, asking should he brush his hair also before he went to bed. His parents, unimpressed, simply said you can do that tomorrow.

www.nishaun.com

www.about-god.org

Copyright © 2008 by Nishaun Smith

Feel free to copy do not alter or sell.