God

Many atheists have technical and emotional reasons why they can't believe in God. Many of these are misrepresentations of the Bible and the real world. There is a famous argument used by atheists, it seems to have turned into some sort of mantra. They ask why won't God heal amputees, when he causes so many other medical miracles.

This question is easily answered; the human mind is a very delicate operation, it does not like breaks in its ability to process the world, therefore it doesn't like miracles. (Many times at a young age a child is given fiction instead of reality. It would suit children better if they read more realistic stories, instead of stories to help them "hide" from reality. Magic is detrimental to the health of a realistic mind. If children were taught the real world and some of its concerns they would not have to worry about the culture shock that most teenagers and young adults face when they are debuted into society.) When a person loses a limb their brain sometimes is unable to cope. The brain has a hard time breaking the connections that once automatically acknowledged the existence of the limb. They actually feel pain in a limb that is no longer there. This is referred to as phantom...

CEE=complex energy environment

There are three possible states of reality; death, immortality then evolution; in that order. All CEEs are in a constant state of death, trying to make repairs and maintain systems' actions. The next state would be equilibrium or immortality. A cell gaining enough energy to repair a wound as it is attempting to "form." The last and unattainable state would then be evolution.

A complex energy environment is defined as an area where external resources are slightly separated from internal recourses. This creates an environment that is usually different from the outside of an object. The brain can be seen as a CEE because it would die if it was not separated by the skull and cerebrospinal fluid, cells would die if they were not separated with a cell wall or cell membrane, the sun also classifies as a CEE because it is separated with distance. If the sun was near a black hole then the sun would die "quickly."

There are certain rules that complex energy environments have to live by or follow. CEEs need to maintain themselves because they are separated from the outside world. This maintenance is usually accomplished by different forms of energy acquisition, like eating or osmosis, even so complex energy environments are doomed to death. The particles or energy of all cells...

Law of Complexity

For an object or energy to be complex it must contain two elements.

1) direction change

The first element would be direction change. The laws of inertia and of motion explain that it takes a large amount of energy to change direction but a smaller amount to maintain direction. Case in point; an airplane flying in a "straight" line then stopping in midair and turning right or left and then immediately accelerating to the previous speed (without harming any passengers), would take a large amount of energy. An airplane that banks and arcs in midair and then turns would take a smaller amount of energy. (Humans are able to play sports like football only because they are capable of direction change, as opposed to rocks.)

2) Confliction

Complex objects also need to contain conflicting components in close proximity. Conflicting components would be defined as particles or energy that do not work well with each other, usually one destroys the other...

An approximation of intelligence

Do atoms have hopes and dreams?

It is interesting that atheism actually proves God's existence. When atheists start denying the existence of the human soul they accidentally open themselves up to that interesting question. By claiming that everything humans know and love is just a matter of tricky atoms, interesting questions are brought to light. Once you regulate hopes and dreams to particle mechanics obvious problems arise. If the atoms inside the human mind are capable of hopes and dreams what about those without? Is it possible that these external hoping and dreaming atoms form the will of God himself? Atheism accidentally strengthens the probability of God's existence by showing the immense dreaming power of "electrons."

There are two massive powers that have forged human history. The fact is if it wasn't for religion and the need to develop massive monuments, like the pyramids, to the gods, the majority of sciences would not exist. Mathematics (a foundation stone of science) only exists because the ancients needed to build perfect buildings for fear of the wrath of the gods. The need to impress God or the false gods(the devil) is the main...

Time-The Energy of the Universe

Is time an actual thing that can be manipulated or walked threw? This is the question that many people have wondered. One would think that time should not be an actual entity but an idea that explains the simple laws of cause and effect. There is actually reason to believe that time is in fact an entity, a pointless energy that keeps the universe moving...

Evolution

“Because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie.” (2 Thessalonian 2:10,11)

The argument between creationists and evolutionists is a very complicated one. The truth is some evolutionists lie and distort information and some tell the truth. In contrast some creationists lie and distort information and some tell the truth. It doesn't matter because the Bible states that all men are prone to lying and only God tells the truth all the time. (Romans 3:4)

Compare God's argument (Christianity) and what it has done to make this world safer or to prevent cannibalism and now balance that with the evolutionary claim that they found some old rocks and that they believe the fossils next to those rock were the same age. Is it really time to call God a liar? Some say the Bible is not scientific but actually psychology and sociology is in fact a science, and there's even a bit of archeology. God paints his pretty picture on the tapestry of the human soul, sadly the soulless are blind to this and forced to question his miracles. I can't believe in evolution till I see that 100,000 year long experiment or see viruses evolve into bacteria...

Hell/death

It is common belief that when a person dies they will be put in front of a judge and be made to answer for all their deeds. This is a common belief among many religions, but when one sticks to the Bible they are at a loss for descriptions of these final places, especially in the Old Testament. All we know for sure is that hell is a place of fiery sadness. The question then in many religions including atheism is, what is the real purpose and direction of hell.

The Bible is very specific that sin can't last forever, so how can sinners last forever in hell? We know that only God hath immortality, then how can any human soul be immortal. A popular verse from the Bible states that, "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believes in him shall not perish but have everlasting life." This verse makes two claims, first that people who believe in God should expect to live forever and people who don't should expect to die. The Bible also claims death and hell will deliver up their dead for a final judgment; then, "death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death." (Revelation 20:14) Which means that a second death must be the punishment of the evil...

The Sabbath

“For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard. For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, 'As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest:' although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. For he spoke in a certain place of the seventh day in this way, 'And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.' And in this again 'If they shall enter into my rest.' Seeing therefore it remains that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not because of unbelief. Again, he limits a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, 'To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.' For if Joshua had given them rest, then he would not afterward have spoken of another day. There remains therefore a rest (sabbatismos-keeping sabbath) to the people of God. For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God from his. Let us labor therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief. For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and...

Humanity

Since the beginning we were created perfect in our ways, now iniquity is in our heart. Human being most likely were the color of amber, like the angels, which means they normally could range from reddish-brown to yellowish brown (with lighter or darker hues) because of the mud with which they were created. The color of amber is the color of life, the shade of life is golden brown. Angels are given the description of having bronze and amber features (not the color, the resin) from within their flame, humans could be seen as “terrestrial angels” we are described in the Bible as being a little lower than angels and also as gods and sons of God. (Psalms 8:5; 82:6)(Hebrews 2:7) Humans also were covered with a clothing of light as are the angels from heaven, a light that has been lost since the beginning when we became naked...

Love

Many disagree with the path that God has set out for his people. Not much detail is given in the Bible about what life would have been like if we hadn't fallen.

Togetherness is a fact of love.

Love is a fact of togetherness...

Heaven

“The heaven, even the heavens, are the Lord's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men. The dead praise not the Lord, neither any that go down into silence.”(Psalms 115:16,17)

This next verse is explained by the verse after it.

“Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.”(Ecclesiastes 12:7)

“His breath goes forth, he returns to his earth; in that very day his thoughts perish.”(Psalms 146:4)

The word spirit in the Bible is usually interpreted as breath! Not some sort of life-force.

“For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward; for the memory of them is forgotten. Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished; neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun...Whatsoever thy hand finds to do, do it with thy might; for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave...

Truth Statements

2)Once you admit that human intelligence can be given a mathematical value and that all objects can absorb and react to stimuli. Then one has to admit that human intelligence had to be created by a force with a higher mathematical intelligence, therefore God has to exist.

4)Cellular reproduction is based on an inertia engine which explains why cells can multiply so easily but this is limited to repetition. So, when a cell tries to change/evolve it can only create a weaker cell, which would make evolution impossible at its core.

9)God has complete control and energizes each movement with time energy. Time is not the fourth dimension it is an energy source.

15)Atheists are the hippies of human morality, they claim people can function without God's structured love and morality. They believe in free love and morality; they are doped up on evolution.

19) "Let everyman be fully persuaded in his own mind."
