

Lucy's Skull Size
by Nishaun Smith

Your mommy's head is so big she used most of her brain to process sight information. Well, that's what evolutionists want you to believe. This is quite comical because, the evolutionists, in their constant attempts to explain the reality we know came from God are attempting to pass off the magnitude of the human brain as something that has a sole purpose of processing colored sight. So they mean to convince us that God didn't create the human brain to process information, to read, to talk, to understand him and his planet or to create as he did. The giant human brain's sole purpose is processing color. We could test this by dropping off some evolutionists in the African wilderness and see how far their eye site takes them, Oh look my advanced eye site can spot a lion 100 feet away wait now he is 10 feet away. Why not spent less energy and have an advanced sense of smell? Oh wait, evolution isn't perfect so you can't test it or judge it or predict the most logical, positive mutations.

www.nishaun.com

www.about-god.org

Copyright © 2008 by Nishaun Smith
Feel free to copy do not alter or sell.